For this project, you are to create a webpage that will have information about you, your interests, and aspirations. It can take the form of an autobiographical excerpt, or perhaps a resume. You have some freedom with this assignment, but you must have the following in your final submission:

- It will consist of a single HTML page
 - It must be in a 2-column or 3-column layout
 - It may be either a fixed-width, or fluid layout
- It must have the CSS in an external style sheet that is linked in to the HTML page
- It must use borders somewhere in the page
 - You must also have rounded corners and shadows on the borders
- It must also use backgrounds (colors, gradients, or images) somewhere in the page
- There should be at least one picture / image somewhere in the page

Deliverables

You should have the single top-level folder, P2_AboutMe, with the index.html (homepage) under it as well as two folders: styles, which will contain the CSS file, and images, which will contain any images you used.

You should also include a comment at the top of your HTML file that has your name, the class name, the semester information, and project information, such as the following:
